

MOTION PICTURE NOTES

J. Schall—The Triangle has a studio at Riverdale, N. Y.

Zoe Bech is whooping it up at Universal City. She has the whooping cough.

Douglas Fairbanks is a native of Denver. His films attract more attention out there than does the Rocky Mountain Range.

Billy Crute has been engaged by the Lubin Company to play a leading role in "The Light at Dusk."

Hedda Kuzewski, the Russian actress who is to act for Lubin, lost a diamond in Philadelphia recently, but she merely laughed in Russian.

A girl who applied to Director Wash Jiggett for a film job in "Sour Milk and Love" said she ought to be the type as her father was a printer.

Dorothy Phillips is to appear in two new films soon. One is a war picture, "If My Country Should Call," and the other is Mrs. Wilson Woodrow's story, "The Piper's Price."

Edwin Stevens is to go in for pictures. He is to appear as Ali Singh in "The Yellow Menace," a serial in sixteen episodes which will be released by the United Sales Corporation.

In his support will be Margaret Gale, Florence Malone, Marie Tress, Armand Cories, Gerald Griffin, Albert Hall and Eric Main.

Leo Gordon, while acting with an Edison company in an abandoned house, became very yellow, and an Irishman who saw him declared he had yellow jaundice. The Irishman recommended that the actor take some salts mixed with the juice of dandelions. A few minutes later the Irishman was seen in a field crawling around on all fours looking for dandelions.

The Thanhouser Company discharged several directors and about seventy-five actors the other day. It is understood the concern will quit making one, two and three-reel pictures and devote its energies to the filming of big features.

In order to accommodate those who missed the portions of Billie Burke's "Gloria's Romance," which have been shown at the Globe Theatre, George Kleine has arranged to exhibit the back episodes as well as the current ones at the matinee next Tuesday.

Now that summer has come, Audrey Munson, the artists' model who never has to have a wardrobe, is to appear as the star in a seven-part allegorical picture to be produced by the American-Mutual Company. She never does much work in winter because of goose-flesh.

CHILD ACTORS TO GRADUATE. First Commencement Exercises of Professional Children's School.

The first commencement exercises of the Professional Children's School will be held Thursday morning, June 8, in the Princess Theatre.

Four children, whose average age is fifteen years, will be graduated. They are Miss Dorothy Brown, Miss Sidney Reynolds, Miss Minnie Hexter and George Edwards Price, all of whom are on the stage. They have completed a two years' course.

Bishop Greer will read an invocation and Miss Elsie Ferguson will present the diplomas. John Drew, Henry Dwight Sedgwick and John J. Chapman will make addresses. Each of the graduating members will deliver an oration.

The school is connected with the Rehearsal Club of No. 229 West Forty-sixth Street, the members of which believe in the right of children to act on the stage providing they can receive proper protection and instruction. Miss Jean Greer, daughter of Bishop Greer, is President of the club.

DANIEL O'DAY IS DEAD. Manager of Big O'Day Estate Succumbs to Pneumonia.

Daniel O'Day, forty-six years old, manager of the O'Day estate of millions and treasurer of the Venango Oil and Land Company, is dead at his home in Rye, N. Y. Three months ago Mr. O'Day was seized with pneumonia. His death, which occurred last night, is attributed to a relapse.

Mr. O'Day's father, Daniel O'Day, was the first confidential agent of John D. Rockefeller in the management of the Standard Oil Company. He died in 1906, leaving a large estate in trust for his twelve children and a life interest to Mrs. Eliza O'Day, his widow. Much of his wealth was in Standard Oil holdings.

The younger Mr. O'Day was educated at Georgetown and Yale. In 1901 he married Miss Caroline Love Goodwin of Savannah, Ga., known both in Europe and America as an artist. He is survived by his widow, a daughter and two sons.
